I am Dorothy Pedersen's grandson. I attended the funeral, which was held on Wednesday, May 14th. I tried hard to participate where I could in the service, and gave it my all to say a few words, but everyone knows how hard that is. I couldn't have asked for a better grandmother. I loved her very much, and even after death, I still love her and miss her really bad. We all miss her in some way. She was the center of our family. She was there to help anyone, where she could, even till the end. It's going to be hard to adapt to a life without her, and until her death, some of us didn't realize how big her role was in the family. So many decisions to be made, and loose ends left after her departure from Earth into Heaven. What I have written is basically what I wanted to say at the funeral, but just couldn't find the strength to do so. I love you, Grandma. I miss you, we all miss you. May you rest in peace. You are reunited with family that left us in the years prior, and in the uncertain future, we will join you as well. But, until that time comes, rest in peace, and no matter what, we're happy you are no longer suffering. I love you. Goodbye.
