Just wanted to say that we love you and miss you dearly. I wish there was at least a phone in heaven, so I could hear you tell me your ok. I know that my father in law will do a good job. I would still like to hear it from you. Adam and I took you and dad more flowers out yesterday. I made you a promise the day you went to be with the lord. Before surgery, you ask me to paint your nails the next day. Well that night you passed. I still kept my promise and got your nails done. I might could only paint a few, because I was shaking so bad, but thanks to Jordan and April we got them done. You looked beautiful the day off your funeral. Cathy did a awesome job picking out your clothes. It looked Judy like something you would of picked out. I could not absorb better mother in law. You treated me just like you treated your girls. You did not choose Adam side over mine. Thanks for being that person that has inspired me to no matter what life gives you to not give up. If there is one person in this world that I know for sure went to heaven it was you. Jeri Lynn Brooks

At first it did not seem real that you were gone. Now that everyday I'm preparing all this stuff for your service, it gets harder and harder. It just goes to show you that in a blink of an eye everything could change. One minute you were fine and the next minute you were gone to be with the Lord. It's crazy how life works. Love and miss u lots your daughter in law Jeri Lynn Brooks
