I met Peter exactly twice in my life. Only a very few minutes each time. He affected my life. I first met him in 1976 (two years before I even met and joined the church). He was selling something at the Bremer County Fair in Waverly, IA. I had no money. He was such a striking person that I asked him where was this church so I could find out more about it. He said that his church was not even in the area. He said that God would find me at the right time for me. I asked him his name. He said "Peter Ostrenko". I re-met him at the Boston Church Center where I was a member, I think maybe 1979. He did not remember me. I definitely remembered him. God works in mysterious ways!

I am so sorry for your loss. Peter was an amazing person with a great passion for life. I never saw him do anything half heartedly whether it be finding birds or running at track. He shared his tremendous bird watching knowledge with several of us during the December Audubon bird count at Flatwoods several years ago. He could identify the birds just by their song and it took us 45 minutes of listening and looking to get out of the parking lot. At track 2 weeks ago Peter was at the front of the group. I will miss him. Jeanne L. Coleman
