My Deepest Condolences to my Lil Sis Millie and my nieces. Javi it was an honor to have shared memories with You and My Sis 😊. The last time I saw you in September I made Lasagna to bring to you at the hospital and I can still hear you say to Millie don't forget the Garlic Bread LOL.....I was sooo happy you accepted God as your Lord and Savior into your life.....Thank you for loving my Lil Sister and being an AMAZING Dad to all the girls.....May you S.I.P 🙏🙏🙏#GoneButNotForgotten

My love, I will always keep my promise to you. Memories will never fade. I will stay strong just like you taught me to be and never let anyone break me. You had my back and I had yours always. Now we gained a guardian Angel to watch over our girls. 4ever 4life 4always. 444 baby (BOB) Blessing on Blessing the things you use to say. I was blessed to be your wife and would not change it for the world. Babe you left me great memories, our beautiful daughters. Thank you baby for being just you.

It feels so weird knowing that you are no longer with us in the physical. I remember hanging out with you and the family in front of your building. The summers we spent hanging out late. Running around doing crazy stuff. You and your sister really became family when you became the first friends we made the first year we moved back from Florida. You will forever be missed and loved. Thank you for being a part of our childhood.

Javier, im sorry we never got to meet eachother, however from what I saw and heard you were an awesome dude. Im so happy you were there for baby sis and nieces. And most importantly I got to talk to you before God took you home. I wish you could tell me how beautiful heaven is, but one day we'll be in each other's presence, laughing and praising the lord. Until then my brother 🙏 RIP
HAPPY NEW YEAR JAVIER

My dear brother in law thank you for loving my baby sister the way you did and my nieces. For changing your life around for them and yourself, and to know what true love was with your little family. Thank you for your laughter and tears we shared when you would call me. Thank you for excepting God as your Lord and Savior because now you're resting in a better place and that gives us peace in our heart. Javier my brother you will never be forgotten. For always in our hearts. Amen

Vivian Betemit sent a virtual gift in honor of Javier.

My condolences to the family. I had the privilege of being in contact with Javier since Aug 2025. My fondest memories are knowing I was able to give him support and encouragement throughout his battle and speaking words of blessings and courage to him 2 days prior to his passing. May God have him resting in eternal peace. No more pain. He will be missed by many.
