Decidí crear un recuerdo en español, pero no tengo fotos ni videos para esta ocasión; solo quería decir que él fue la persona más amable que he conocido. Fue como un padre para mí; me encantaba pasar tiempo con él y se me partió el corazón verlo enfermo. Lo quiero muchísimo.

He wasn't as sick in this video but I came back from school and he asked me what I learned in school and I showed him, he was the most sweetest person ive ever met, he took me to shop with him, he took me to the park, and he always did, he took me when I asked him, almost every day. I'll never forget about him, I miss him so much ❤️

I had the pleasure of living with Tio Miguel my freshman year of college. My Abuela Juana encouraged me that Tio was great and had a lot of love to give but I knew that having his great niece live with him was not on his bingo card so I was a little nervous moving in. Little did I know that even with the language barrier, he would be the best roommate I'd ever have. He had a kind aura, gentle soul and heart made out of gold. Tio made me feel like I was home even though home was 3 hours away. He even treated my boyfriend, now husband as part of the family. My favorite memories of him were hanging out on the porch with him, having Sunday family time with everyone at the house and just watching him from a distance. Everything he did from working on his car, watching tv, cooking, always talking on the phone, reminded me of the times I spent with my Abuela Juana as a kid. He had the same presence as her and it brought me great comfort even in my hardest times being away from home. The best memory I had with him was Valentine's Day. I wanted to get him a gift so I walked to the CVS (or Walgreens can't remember) and bought him a few treats. When I gave it to him, I could tell he was surprised. Later that day when I came home he ended up getting me a gift too. LOL I think he realized that I liked celebrating with him so every holiday after that we always got each other something sweet LOL. If it wasn't for Tio, I don't think I would've been able to attend college so far away and for that I am so so grateful. My new journey in life never felt as scary because I had him to guide me. Thank you Tio for allowing me to have a small part of my life with you. You'll have a special place in my heart always. I pray you're at peace and my heart goes out to your wife, her children and the Sierra family. Love, Bianca, Andrew and Solana Soler

My favorite memories of you are from the times I would visit Grandma, and she would always take me along to see you. The two of you would sit together, laughing and talking for hours. Thank you for being such a wonderful friend to my grandma. It meant so much, more than words can fully express. I hope that now, you are both together again, sharing endless smiles and laughter in heaven. Please let her know how deeply I miss her. You will be missed just as dearly. With love, Alicia
